Specialist Damage Management Contractor of the Year

Harwell recently capped off an incredibly successful year by being named as the Specialist Contractor of the Year at the British Damage Management Association Awards ceremony.

This award is the second major award in twelve months for Harwell, having won the Business Continuity Awards' category for Specialist Disaster Contractor in May 2009.

Managing Director Ken McKenzie comments: 'This second award again attests to the hard work and professionalism of our staff. We have dealt with some major projects recently, most notably after the flooding in Cumbria and Ireland, so this award comes as a major boost.'
